The theme of this year's conference will be Learning By Design. This past winter the official name for Technology Education in Vermont was changed to "Design & Technology Education" to avoid confusion and be aligned with the Framework of Standards. We have set up a day of workshops examining ways of incorporating Design into the Curriculum. As in the past we hope to have a round table discussion of issues such as TSA's and how teachers include Design into their curriculum. Please bring ideas to share. In the afternoon, we will also have our annual meeting and presentation of awards. We hope to see you there.
